We also help companies dramatically improve their quality and efficiency of hiring and are today associated with more than 2000 corporations. Aspiring Minds is a 500+ people strong organization with operations in US, China, India, Middle East, Philippines and Africa.

Aspiring Minds' National Employability Report is the only systematic analysis of job readiness of technical and non-technical graduates based on their language competence, aptitude, functional skills and personality. The report widely covered by media houses such as The Economist, The Wall Street Journal, The Economic Times, Times on India, Business Standard and Hindustan Times has emerged as a standard annual audit of higher education in India.

We have arranged a briefing session by a representative of Aspiring Minds in our college on 19th Mar'18 for 30 minutes. The sessions will be 9:30 to 10:00 am for Computer, E & TC and Civil engineering students, the new seminar hall. 10:30 am to 11:00 am will be the time slot for Mechanical engineering students in the new seminar hall. Students are required to be present for the session and get the benefit of the Employability test, which will be conducted in the college.
